The GCBMS-2023' organizing team, warmly invites you to the 9th Global Conference on Business Management and Social Science (GCBMS-2023). We proudly announce that this conference shall be the 25th event of Academy of Business Management Conferences (ABMC). The previous ABMC conferences received an impeccable response where keynote speakers from MIT, Oxford University, Harvard, UCLA, Imperial College London, Stanford and researchers from across the globe shared their research on different topics related to the theme, you can see the previous conferences and presentations on our youtube channel. After two years of virtual conferences, we are now ready to host this year's conference to be physical/in-person with the flexibility to present online/virtual as well, hence announcing the conference to be hybrid.

It's about three years since the first covid case was reported and this pandemic very quickly converted to an epidemic, now the world after covid is surfacing and majority of the nations have realized the truth that they have to live with this novel corona virus, hence businesses are to develop new strategies and tactics to deal with this new landscape. In light of this contemporary challenge faced by businesses, we are pleased to announce the next annual conference to be held on the 6th - 7th May 2023 (Hybrid) with the theme "Business Management and Social Sciences; reflections and directions for future research" it's time for researchers to revisit the existing theories & strategies and set new directions for the industry, society and policy makers alike. The theme is selected considering the new landscape which has reshaped the global environment (businesses and societies alike), after covid the global economy is facing more challenges (e.g., poverty, inequality, environmental sustainability), the new reality is that now businesses and societies are even more challenged, hence this shifts the challenge on the scholarly community to dig into the situation and suggest new strategies to make the economies, businesses and societies successful and sustainable.

9th GCBMS-2023 invites keynote, invited speeches, plenary sessions, oral/poster presentations related to business management and social sciences, other disciplines are also welcome, unless and until they address the theme.

We feel honored for you to be a part of this great conference that shall provide attendees a platform to interact with great researchers from across the globe.
